

Lori Solomon, MD, MPH, FAAFP
Board Certified Family Physician

Our healthcare system is broken; high prices, fragmented care, impossibly short visits with a doctor who is supposed to be addressing all aspects of our health. It's no wonder doctors are burning out and patients are unhappy! After 15 years of working in this system I was ready to get out, but I realized that leaving the system wouldn't help anyone and that's why I went in to medicine in the first place. I had to lead the change! I am excited to open the first Direct Primary Care practice in Westchester County.

I care for all ages- from newborn to the aged, doing acute care as well as prevention and management of chronic conditions. The most rewarding aspect of medicine is developing long-term relationships with my patients. I love educating and motivating people to make healthy lifestyle changes. I look forward to partnering with you to maximize your health!
